

VALENS LAKE CONSERVATION AREA LOOKOUT PLATFORM

WHERE'S THE LOOKOUT TOWER?

Due to safety concerns, the lookout tower has been removed from Valens Lake Conservation Area. This tower, while well-loved, was built in the mid-1970s and had reached the end of its lifespan.

A new tower, pictured below, is planned for the same location as the original. It will have a similar footprint but will be wheelchair accessible, including two viewing decks, constructed of steel and wood for a longer usable life, and, as the first tower did, provides a unique viewpoint of Valens Lake.

Permit review for the new proposed structure is currently underway. Construction on the project is expected to begin in Winter 2024 and run to early 2025.

For more information on this project, please contact:

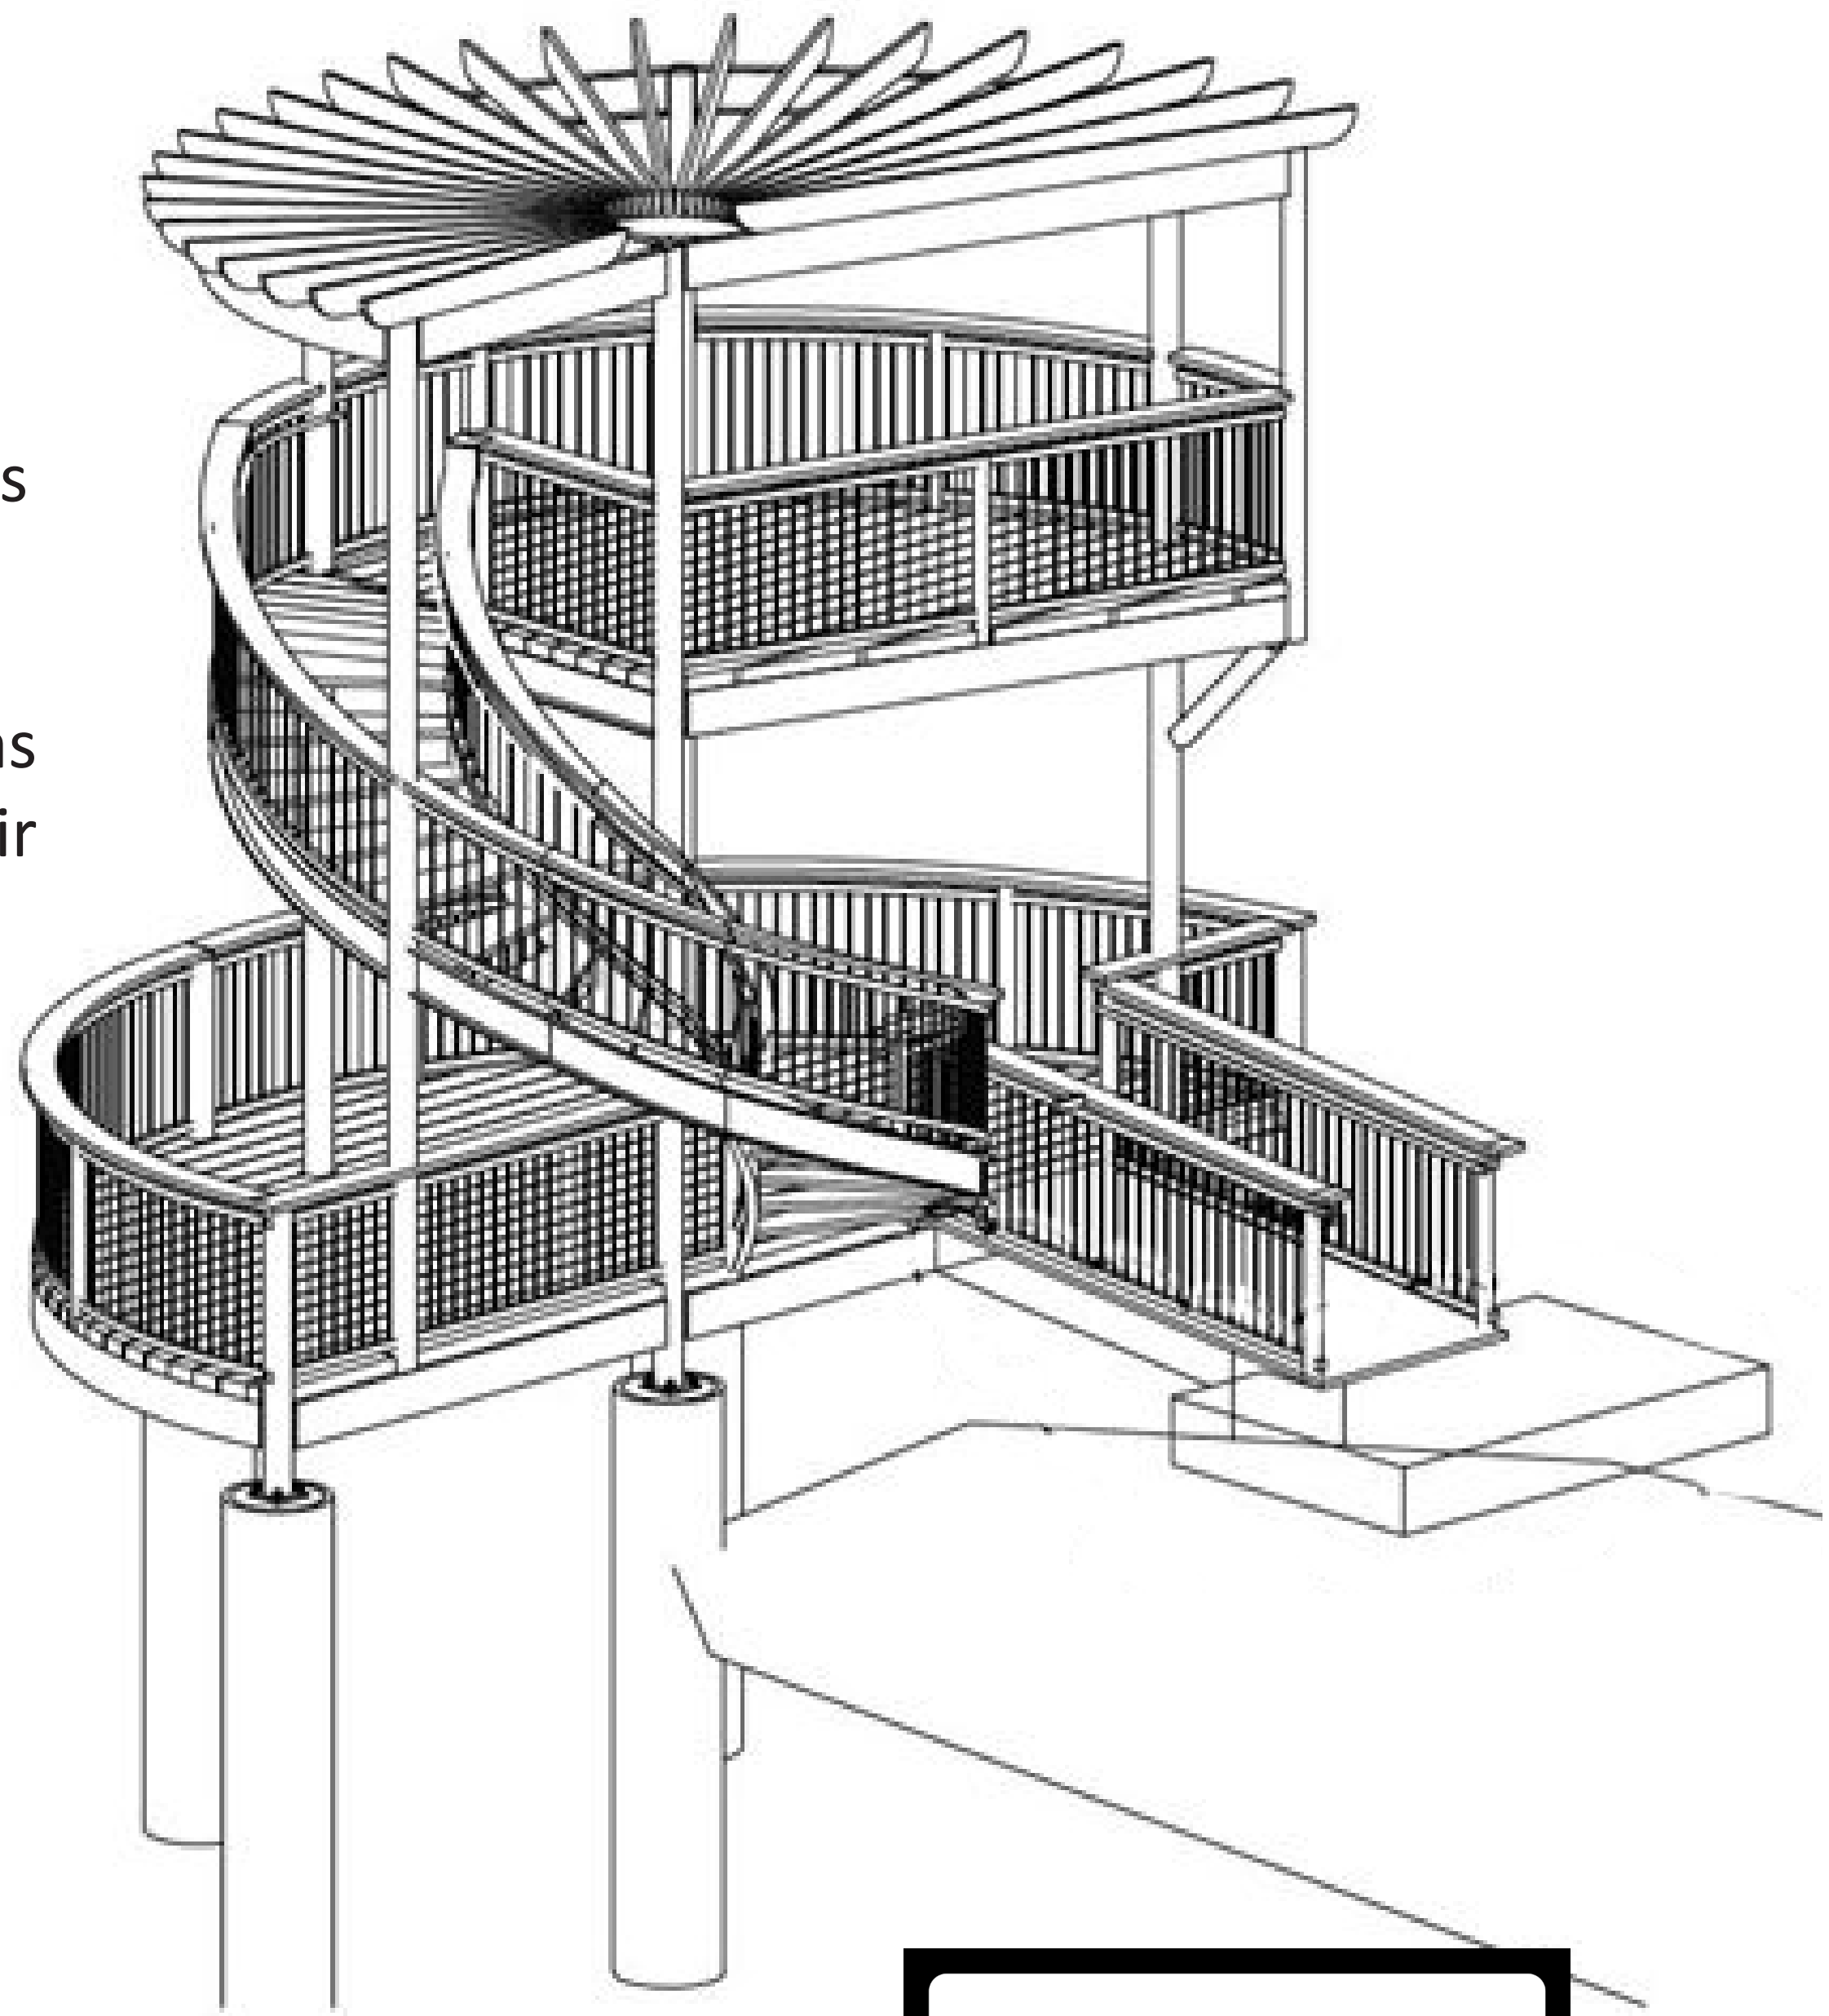

Matthew J. Hall

Director; Capital Projects & Strategic Services

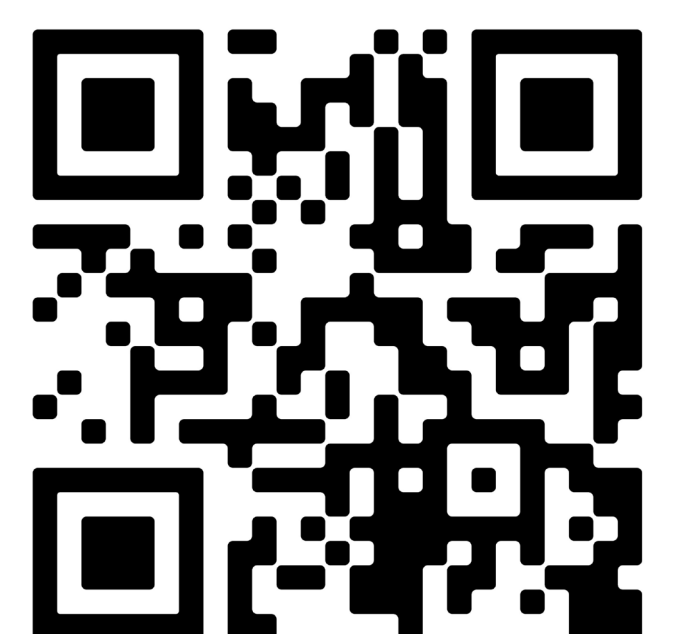

Hamilton Conservation Authority

Phone: 905-525-2181 Ext. 188

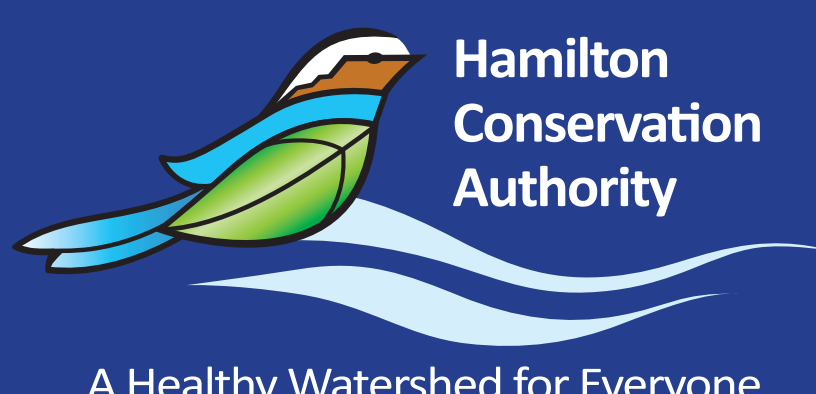

matthall@conservationhamilton.ca

For more information and the full design and report, please visit:
<https://conservationhamilton.ca/lookout-platform/>

Scan for more information

Hamilton
Conservation
Authority

A Healthy Watershed for Everyone